

Kechu Jin

k.jin0320211@arts.ac.uk

At this stage, I learned to observe people and things with a purpose,and to discover people with characteristics in the crowd, so as to get inspiration to create a character.

When I saw this little boy, I immediately caught his curious eyes about the world.What caught his attention?Then a puppy came into my vision, and I was thinking about how to connect the puppy with the boy and let them have a lovely interaction,Then I thought of the balloon, so I decided to use the balloon as aconnection between the little boy and the puppy.
Next time I can try to change more drawing locations, stimulate more imagination space, enhance the connection between backgrounds and characters, and improve the sense of lens in drawings.

https://animationkechu.myblog.arts.ac.uk/2022/10/13/week-2-3/